What would people find out about you if they really knew you?

If you really took the time to get to know me, you would know that...

____________________________________________________________________

____________________________________________________________________

____________________________________________________________________

____________________________________________________________________

____________________________________________________________________

____________________________________________________________________

____________________________________________________________________

____________________________________________________________________

____________________________________________________________________

What keeps other people from getting to know these things about you?